NEWS ABOUT HOME.

—The St. Johnsbury Orchestra will give a dance at the Opera House next Saturday evening, Jan. 19.

—The Caledonia County cases are being tried this week before the supreme court at Montpelier and most of our lawyers have been over there this week.

—Col. Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Walker have moved into their new residence at the corner of Church and Summer streets and have one of the prettiest homes in town.

—W. B. Johnson, who has been a partner in the ice business with the Flint Brothers, has bought out the latter gentlemen and will manage the business alone next season.

—When Harry Daniels exhibits his poultry they have no trouble in getting premiums. At the poultry show at Concord, N. H., last week his four birds took three first and one second premium.

—A masquerade party will be held in the Pythian hall this evening under the auspices of the Mite society of the Church of the Messiah. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

—There was a run on the Citizens bank Wednesday when their safes and banking fixtures were moved from the Board of Trade rooms to their new block. They are now located in the finest banking establishment in the state.

—The Bank of Commerce at Albuquerque, N. M., has declared a dividend of 5 per cent and elected Dr. H. S. Browne of St. Johnsbury one of the directors. Harley J. Emerson, formerly of this place, and Dr. Browne's son-in-law, is assistant cashier of this bank.

—The Keeley Institute at Montpelier, the first of the kind in the state, is under a cloud and charges have been made against Manager Foster and an investigation is now being held. The patients under Mr. Foster have left Montpelier, one of them having come to the St. Johnsbury Institute.

—At the meeting of the Congregational ministers of this conference here on Tuesday a scholarly and extremely interesting paper was read by Rev. W. M. Gay of McIndoes upon "Higher Criticism." The rest of the meeting was spent in a general discussion of matters of interest to the association.

—The next entertainment in the Y. M. C. A. course will be an illustrated lecture on the American navy next Friday evening. The lecturer, Byron Williams, comes here highly recommended by all the high navy officials and his illustrations of the new battleships and cruisers are an education in themselves.

—L. J. Allen and Henry W. Ellis have gone into partnership and formed an advertising agency under the firm name of Allen & Ellis. Besides securing advertising for the papers, they will mail circulars, distribute bills and do any other work in that line. Both are well-known in St. Johnsbury and are deserving of success in their new venture.

ACADEMY NOTES.

The reading by Sara Lord Bailey at Academy hall Monday evening was well received. Although Miss Bailey has been before the public for a number of seasons, this is her first appearance before a St. Johnsbury audience. The programme was varied and interesting, affording much pleasure. About the usual sized audience was present.

PERSONALS.

Hiram Cutting is at his old home, Lyme, N. H., for a few days.

Frank Taylor is clerking in A. W. Scott's shoe store.

Mrs. A. F. Lawrence has gone to Laconia to visit her daughter.

Mrs. S. S. Clark of St. Albans is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Sault.

J. A. Hunt of North Troy is clerking for F. A. Scott in his grocery store.

Rev. M. Atwood is for the present supplying the Free Baptist church at Sutton.

Mrs. P. F. Blodgett was in Montpelier last week visiting friends in that city.

Miss L. A. Hitchcock of Clarendon Springs was an interested visitor at the poultry show.

Edson Ranney has opened a boot and shoe repair shop in the basement of the Bailey block.

Mrs. Henrietta Goodall entertained a few of her friends Tuesday evening at her home on Pearl street.

A. L. Wicks of St. Albans, United States revenue inspector, was here Wednesday on business connected with his office.

Mrs. C. T. Ranlet is attending the musical convention at Littleton this week spending one day with her parents in Bethlehem.

Mrs. John Gunn concluded her labors as compositor at the CALEDONIAN office last week after four years of faithful service.

Mrs. G. F. Cheney left on Wednesday for New Orleans where she will spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. Helen Putnam.

Dr. H. S. Browne, who has been spending the holidays with his daughter at Albuquerque, N. M., expects to return home in about a month.

C. M. Berry left Monday morning to begin his midwinter trip as salesman for Frederick Beck & Co., paper furnishings, New York city.

Miss Alice Brown has gone to Boston to study music. Miss Brown has been one of the sopranos in the North church choir the past year and has a fine voice.

Prof. A. L. Hardy and wife entertained a few of their immediate friends at a tea on Tuesday afternoon, the occasion being the tenth anniversary of their marriage.

P. E. Clark, who has been clerking for Scott Brothers, has been obliged to give up work on account of ill health and will spend the winter in the South. He left here Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Farrington of Walden, who have been stopping for the past month at the St. Johnsbury House, will spend the winter in Florida. They left for Boston last week.

On Tuesday afternoon a number of invited friends of Miss Myrtle Roberts celebrated her eighth birthday anniversary at her home No. 6 Cross st. Tea was served and the occasion was a pleasant one for the little folks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Kellogg entertained a company of friends very pleasantly last evening at their home on Main street in honor of her sister, Miss Ida Beach, who returns Saturday to her home in Pittsfield, Mass.

At a meeting of the Woman's Club at Morrisville last week a sketch of the Wartburg castle with personal reminiscences was given by Miss Glines of this place, which the News and Citizen says was an unexpected treat.

The many friends of E. D. Steele, now of Lowell, will be interested to learn that he will be married next Thursday to Miss Maud Hadley of that city. Several friends and relatives from here will attend the wedding.

G. A. Whitcher, a former St. Johnsbury merchant, has sold out his two stores in Providence, R. I., and will spend the winter in the South. Mr. Whitcher was here a few hours Monday, and will spend part of the winter in Tallapoosa, Ga.

Harry L. Heald, son of L. B. Heald of this place, has decided to leave Littleton and will locate at Topeka, Kan. Mr. Heald enters the law office of the Glead Brothers, who are also Vermont men. Mr. Heald has a promising future before him and we wish him much success.

GEN. GORDON'S LECTURE.

A Brilliant Address from a Southern Statesman.

The lecture by Gen. Gordon in the Y. M. C. A. course last Friday evening was one of the finest ever given in this town and was thoroughly enjoyed by a large audience. He was very pleasantly introduced by Rev. Mr. Tyrie. The latter began by naming some of the great men that had appeared in our course, and then spoke of Gen. Gordon's war record; the fact that he has been twice elected governor of Georgia, and was now representing that state in the United States senate. He also gave a sentence from Senator Gordon's speech in the senate at the time of the Chicago riots. Gen. Gordon was given a hearty applause when he arose to speak and he began by thanking the audience for their greeting.

The lecture was not a history or analysis of the closing period of the war, but was mostly reminiscences of the war, together with bursts of patriotism that were received by the audience with prolonged applause. Gen. Gordon spoke for nearly two hours and he held the attention of the audience to the close. He has a magnificent voice, and in his heights of eloquence his voice would easily have filled the largest auditorium in this country.

In opening he said that Vicksburg and Gettysburg was the turning point in the great conflict, and that it was down hill all the way from that time until Appomattox. The movements of Gen. Lee's army across the Potomac at Antietam and Gettysburg were referred to as social reciprocity. He said that every soldier who fell during the war, on either side, was still a living and eloquent witness of that highest of all character—martyrdom for the truth as he understood it.

Gen. Gordon then related incidents both thrilling and amusing of the campaigns at Gettysburg, Antietam, at the Rapidan, Spotsylvania Court House, around Petersburg and at the last battle of the war at Appomattox. In these various incidents the speaker took occasion to pay eloquent tributes to both Northern and Southern generals, including Lee, Stonewall Jackson, Grant, Meade, Custer, Sheridan and Hooker.

The closing part of the lecture was the most interesting when Gen. Gordon so graphically described Gen. Lee's last council of war in the woods at Appomattox, the surrender which followed the next day and the meeting between the commanders of the two armies, Grant and Lee. On all of these occasions Gen. Gordon was present and his tribute to Grant's magnanimity on the occasion of the surrender was as sincere as it was eloquent. In closing he thanked God that whenever the victory perched on either side it was a monument to American valor, northern chivalry and southern courage.

After the lecture a brief but cordial reception was tendered him in Music Hall and many had the privilege of grasping the senator's hand and thanking him for his brilliant address.

TONIGHT'S CONCERT.

The concert in Music Hall tonight by the Bureka Quartette of Concord, N. H., and Mrs. Hubbard of Brattleboro will be a fine musical treat. Mr. Conant is leader of the quartette and his many friends will be pleased to hear his voice again in St. Johnsbury. He will appear on the programme in solos as well as in the quartette. Mrs. Hubbard was in St. Johnsbury last summer, the guest of Mrs. John M. Allen, and delighted a number of friends with her singing. Concerning her voice, the Pittsfield Eagle says: "Mrs. Hubbard has a clear and true soprano voice of wide range and pleasing quality, and she uses it with skill and judgment." And the Montpelier Argus says: "The singing by Mrs. Linna T. Hubbard was most beautiful. Her rendering of the various selections was pleasing in the highest degree."

The tickets for this concert may be obtained at either Bingham's or Bagley's, and are offered at a very reasonable price.

WEDDING BELLS.

The marriage of Henry Mossey and Clara Lizotte Lacourse took place at the Catholic church Tuesday morning, Rev. J. A. Boissonault officiating, after which a wedding breakfast was partaken of at Frank Lacourse's, the couple leaving on the afternoon train north. Charles Roy was best man and Maud Lizotte, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. The newly married couple were the recipients of a number of beautiful and useful presents as a token of the esteem in which they are held.

E. L. Hovey gave notice that at the next annual meeting he should bring up the matter of dissolving the Agricultural Society. The meeting then adjourned.

The Fair Ground Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Caledonia Fair Ground Company was one of the best attended in the history of the association and unusual interest was taken in the voting. President Livingston called the meeting to order and the treasurer's report was read and accepted. The report showed that $6327.36 had been spent and that there was a balance due the treasurer of $37.89. The treasurer added that if he had not paid some of last year's bills there would be about $200 now on hand instead of a deficit.

The chair appointed Carl M. Spencer, Arthur F. Stone and John T. Ritchie tellers and the balloting commenced for the new directors. Two tickets were in the field. The first contained the old board of directors, with one exception, and consisted of the following names, Franklin Fairbanks, T. N. Vail, William Higgins, Elmore T. Ide, J. G. Hovey, A. S. Livingston, C. A. Sylvester, J. D. Gould, Cloud Harvey, I. H. Hall and Arthur F. Stone. The other ticket had these names, E. A. Parks, T. N. Vail, E. F. Griswold, T. R. Stiles, W. E. Peck, F. W. Silsby, W. A. Taplin, W. S. Bailey, G. W. Story, E. L. Hovey, F. W. Estabrooks.

It was principally a battle of proxies and all but 11 out of the 125 shares were voted upon. The result of the vote was as follows:

Whole number of votes cast, 114.
Necessary for a choice, 58.
T. N. Vail received 114, Franklin Fairbanks, William Higgins, E. T. Ide, J. G. Hovey, A. S. Livingston, J. D. Gould, Cloud Harvey and Arthur F. Stone each 61, C. A. Sylvester and I. H. Hall each 60. The above named gentlemen were declared elected. On the other ticket E. A. Parks and W. E. Peck each received 54 votes and the other gentlemen 53. An adjournment was taken immediately after the vote was announced.

At a meeting of the directors held after the adjournment of the Fair Ground meeting the board organized by electing A. S. Livingston, president; T. N. Vail, vice-president, and J. D. Gould, secretary and treasurer. The next fair will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 10, 11 and 12, 1895. This is the week following the regular state fair.

MUSICAL.

The pupils of B. F. Harris gave a piano recital at the Y. M. C. A. hall Tuesday evening. The hall was well filled with an appreciative audience, and the pianists showed much proficiency in their work. Mr. Harris was assisted in the recital by Miss Nellie S. Clemons who sang two numbers very sweetly. All the players were applauded at the close of each piece and the work of the little folks, Robert and Margaret Clark and Maud E. Brown, was very well received. Following is the programme:

Bolero, Miss Jennie M. Stevenson Morley

WOMAN'S CLUB.

The regular monthly meeting of the St. Johnsbury Woman's Club was held in Pythian Hall Monday afternoon, Mrs. May in the chair. After considerable business had been disposed of, Mrs. Ida Boynton gave the current events topic for the last month, devoting her entire paper to a brief but comprehensive statement of the currency question now before our congress and the public in general. The literary programme of the afternoon followed. The subject was history and travel. Mrs. Elizabeth B. Jewett read a paper upon ancient canals, showing the important usages of these means of transportation before the days of railroads, and even back almost to the beginning of history. Mrs. Charlotte A. H. Thompson presented the modern canals, which in some sections of the country are of so much value, notably the Suez and Sault St. Marie. She also reviewed the history of the Nicaragua canal now in the process of construction.

Owing to the lateness of the hour the remainder of the programme arranged was postponed to an indefinite date.

The next meeting will be under the leadership of the social committee and will be held on the evening of Feb. 11, at which time the members are expected to bring one or more invited guests with them.

U. V. M. NOTES.

Ida and Mabel Miles, St. J. A. '93, U. V. M. '98, have been initiated into the Kappa Alpha Theta fraternity.

Minnie Kinsman, St. J. A. '91, recently visited college friends.

Gaylord Ladd, Academy non-graduate, was the guest of Gay Felton, Academy '92, U. V. M. '97, last week. Ida and Mabel Miles were at home to the college women, January 9th from three thirty to five.

THE POULTRY SHOW.

A Very Successful Exhibition.

The second exhibition of the Vermont Poultry and Pet Stock Association on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of this week, was a great success. Exhibits were made from all parts of the state, besides several from Massachusetts and New Hampshire. Among the finest exhibits from out of town were the coops of Bronze and Black Turkeys and Light Brahmas from the Queen City Poultry Yards, Burlington; coops of White Wonder fowls by the originator, Wm. N. French of New Haven. His fowls took diploma and first prize at Copenhagen in June, 1893. H. A. Brush & Son of Milton exhibited fancy birds from imported stock of Mottled Farrier Pheasants, Ring Neck Pheasants and Astrachans. Geo. Davis of East Montpelier, well-known in this vicinity, exhibited a fine lot of his excellent Light Brahmas, C. C. Paine of South Randolph added much by his lot of fancy White Crested Polish fowls. H. W. Heath of Newbury, one of the association's vice presidents, had coops of nice Light Brahmas, Polish fowls and White Wonder fowls. Hon. T. N. Vail of Lyndon exhibits fine specimens of St. Bernard sluts and puppies. A registered Scotch Collie with pups, entered by A. F. Redfield of Coventry. A white porcupine, and a goose nearly half a century old were among the novel features. The large exhibitions of unusually fine fowls by fanciers and breeders of this town and vicinity speaks well of the painstaking of members of the association. Here is the complete list of entries:

SLEIGH RIDES.

One evening last week pupils of the highest grade in the Union schools took a sleigh ride to Lyndonville. On the same evening members of the New England Order of Protection drove to Grave's hall, Waterford. The same week Miss Steele took her pupils to Lyndonville. Saturday evening a number of young people rode to Danville, took supper and indulged in a promenade for amusement.
